We, the graduating class of 1985, have chosen as our theme "Continuing Our Lives." This years' DARDANIAN is the 20th edition of the yearbook. It has continued to grow and develop to be a special book of memories. Our theme, "Continuing Our Lives," was chosen because everything we do has continuity associated with it. We continue through school from kindergarten until we become seniors. We then go on to college or to our jobs and continue to gain knowledge.

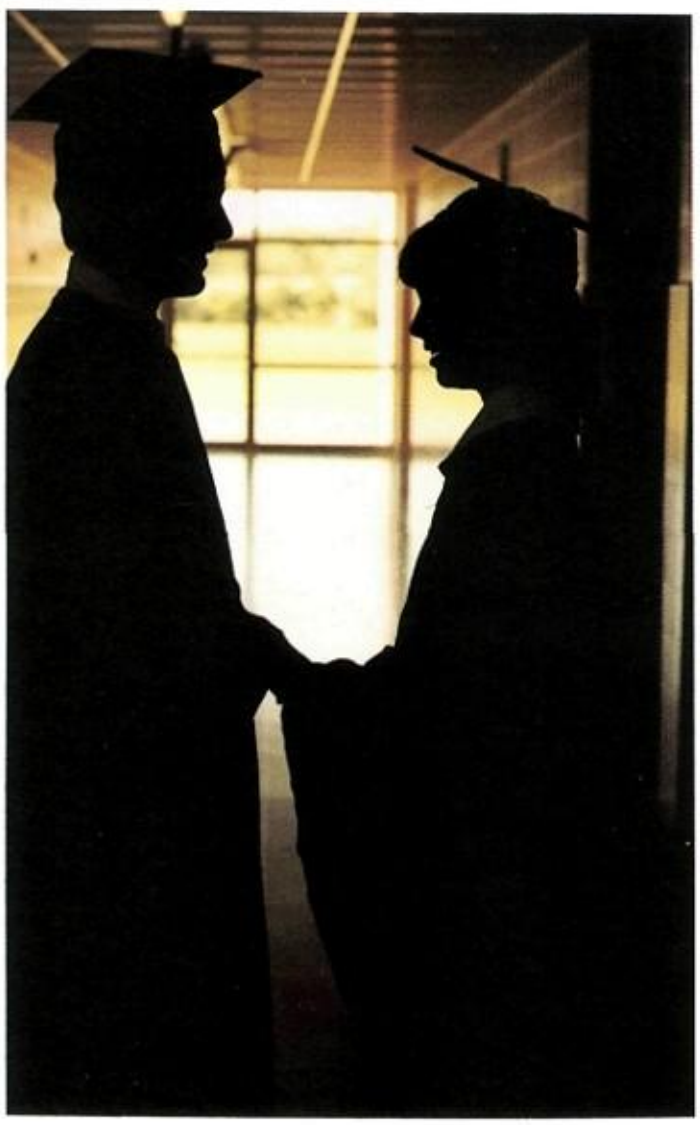
Each section of the yearbook represents and portrays an aspect of school life. All links are needed to form the complete chain.

Chains and links were used to symbolize our theme. The students conjoin to the teachers, teachers to the administration, administration to the school board, the school board to the parents, and the parents, in turn, back to the students.

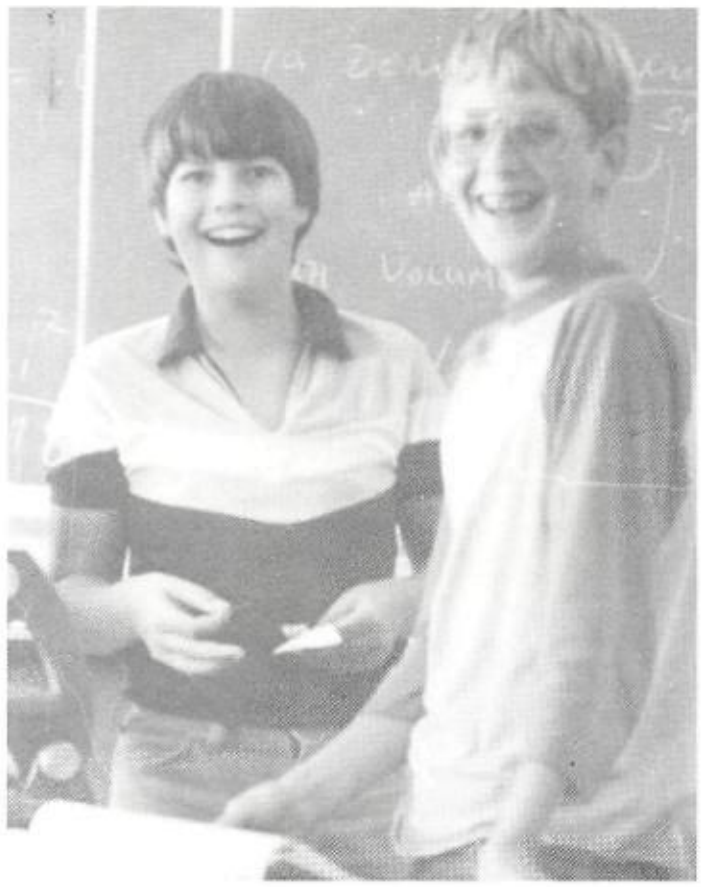
Each year, for the student body, the symbols represent not an ending but a continuation and strengthening of knowledge, maturation, experiences, and friendships.

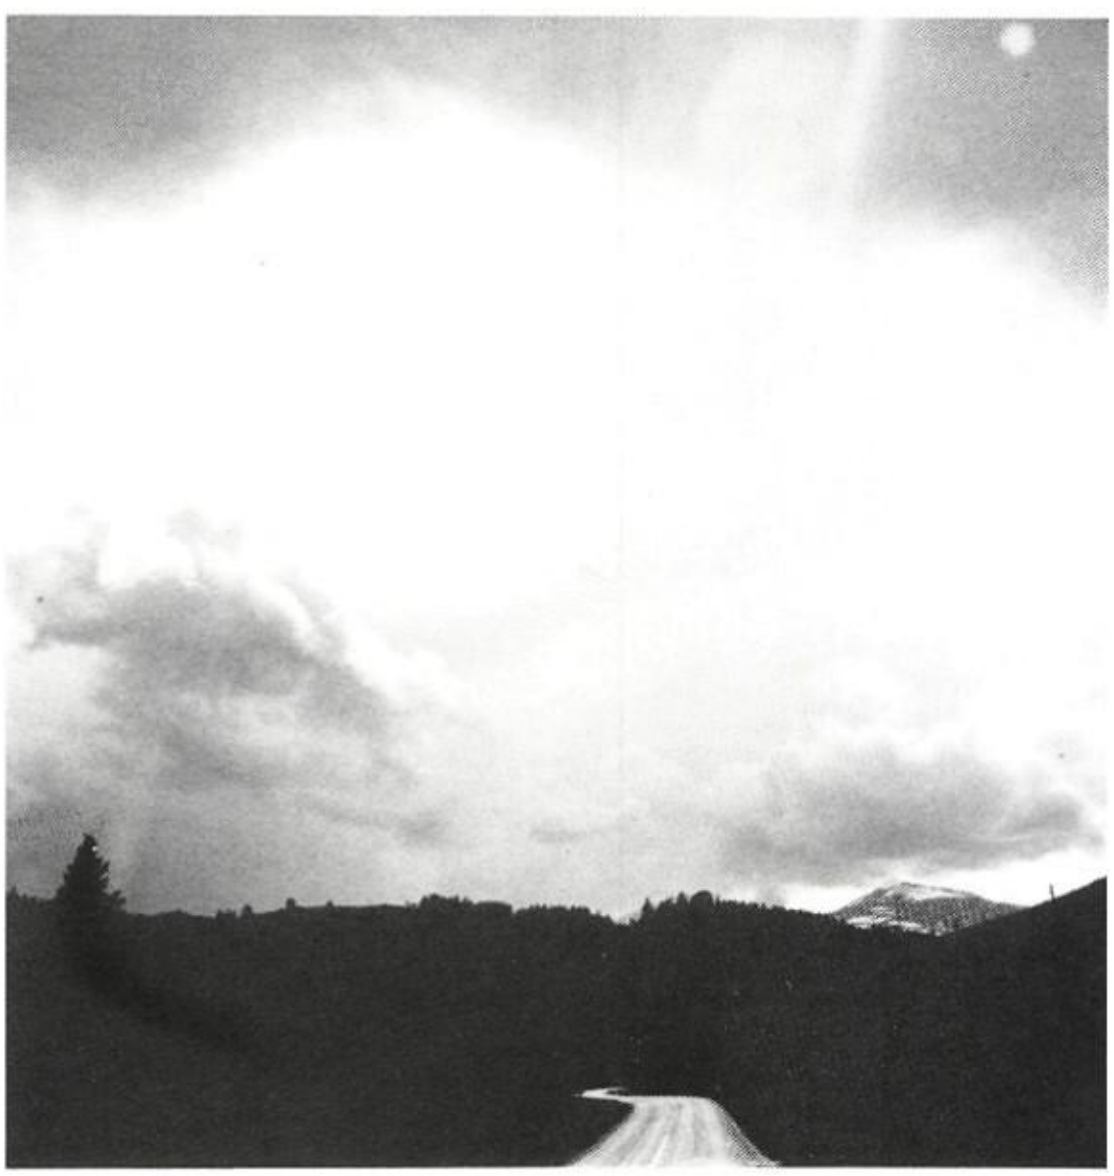
We hope that those students following us will succeed as they continue through high school. We also hope that as we continue our lives, the friendships we developed will grow stronger.

The Finishing



Touches Of 1985





Chains

As students we are growing
And building as we learn.
The chains of life surround us
At every bend and turn.

Not everyone builds their links
As strong as they can be;
Thus, the chains are weak and break
And friendship is of need.

When the friendships of high school
Have all moved away,
Our chains gilded with memories
Will help us through each day.

The chains of life, they bind us
From morning until night;
They hold us to our destiny
With our goals close in sight.

Some Thoughts From The Seniors

IF YOU COULD HAVE ONE DREAM COME TRUE, WHAT WOULD IT BE?

-Live in Hawaii and manage my own business. COLAIN PIERSON
-My personal empire. JIM GOOD
-Be financially independent. Own ten 1969 Z/28 Camaros. To own a chain of beauty salons famous world wide. TERRI TRAUTMAN
-Own a corvette (any color). LORI LEBO
-Hit the lottery. TROY HOFFERT
-All I need is people to work with me that show me care and encouragemet. LORRAINE SCHMEHL
-Do my very best in all I do. LISA WALMER
-Become a successful physician. PHLEANE KAUFFMAN
-Be rich and successful in life. KEITH ETCHBERGER
-Have a career that would be interesting, a husband and children. Children would be best because I love them. STEPHANIE YACOMES
-Own a Porsche 935. JOEL ZIEGLER
-Be a famous, professional musician. STEVE BURKHART
-Three wishes. JIM SHUPP
-Receive a full scholarship for med-school and graduate summa-cum-laude. MIKE BURKHART
-Own a big horse ranch somewhere in the Midwest. MELISSA ZELLER
-Have a nice house, good husband, job, family, and to be well off. TINA LUCKENBILL
-Play professional ice hockey. PATRICK WYSE
-Make lots of money so I can go to Hawaii and meet Tom Selleck. JOYCE LIGHT
-Make lots of money to buy a race car and race in stock car races. Own a silver Porsche. CHERYL ZEIGLER
-Live in a land of rainbows and unicorns with Troy. LORRIE LEINBACH

MANY ASSOCIATE YOUR SCHOOL YEARS AS A FLOWER, BEGINNING AS A SEED, AND NOW AS GRADUATES, IN FULL BLOOM. DO YOU AGREE? WHY OR WHY NOT?

-Yes. When we were little, it seemed forever until we would graduate and now it's finally here. DENNY HOPPMAN
-YES. You begin as a freshman (starting to mature) and end as a senior (matured). JUSTINA BARTSCH
-Yes and No. We are flowers, but we are not in full bloom yet. We will be when we graduate from college and go into the work force. HEIDI EISENBROWN
-Yes. You become more mature as you get older. RON KOCH
-Yes. In kindergarten you do not know anything as compared to being a senior. I have learned many things but I know there is much more to learn. DUANE LUCKENBILL
-Yes. Every year you grow in knowledge and wisdom, and when you reach graduation you are supposed to go out with what you have learned. TINA BLATT
-Yes. At the beginning you are just starting to learn and mature. Then by the end you are educated and mature, ready for your future. TRICIA HIMMELBERGER
-Yes. In some ways, I've grown through the years and learned a lot so the flower grew some, but I still have a long way to go. TROY LAPE
-I agree. Freshmen are the seed and once you bloom you are now graduating. EUREKA YEICH

DO YOU AGREE THAT YOU HAVE JUST COMPLETED THE BEST YEARS OF YOUR LIFE?

-No. I have my future to discover. JIMMY REBER
-No. How would I know? I am not dead yet. DENNIS STUPP
-I don't know yet. I don't know what the future holds. WENDY VALENTINE
-Yes and No. I have had some of the best years of my life in high school but it doesn't end. There will be a chance to meet again at the class reunion. STEPH HOFFMAN
-No. I hope not, or I am in trouble. SUE HOUCK
-Yes. For the rest of your life people will depend on you more. MARK SWEITZER
-Yes. Now I'll probably have to find some sort of job and actually work for a living. MICHAEL KLINE
-Not really. Life has so many more things to teach you. School is the first stage to experiencing all the things life has to offer. KATHY FORRY
-Yes. When you're out making a living you have to be more serious. JOE YOUNG

WHAT WERE YOUR EXPECTATIONS FOR HIGH SCHOOL? DID YOU FULFILL THEM?

-That I would graduate and make something out of my life from what I learned in school. Yes. DAWN EVANS
-Get a good education. Yes. SHARON BICHER
-Develop close friends, go places with friends, have fun in school, and to meet new people. Yes. DONNA DAUB
-I didn't have any expectations. I just enjoyed one day at a time. SUE FOREMAN
-Have a super time while getting an education and participating in extracurricular activities. Yes. TEENA LaFOLLETTE
-Do well in school work and sports. Yes. KIM GRAEFF
-To do well academically but I did not fulfill that expectation. But I did well in sports. SUE HOUCK
-Have fun and make friends while we learn a little something. Yes. KIM KEHLER
-To finish school in the business field. Yes. PEGGY KELLER

THERE ARE MANY CHAINS IN YOUR LIFE. YOUR SCHOOL YEARS ARE A PART OF A CHAIN THAT LINKS YOU TO THE FUTURE. HOW DOES THIS AFFECT YOUR FUTURE.

REMEMBRANCE

From elementary, to junior high
Come memories that bring about a cry.
Memories of precious times we shared,
And comforting ones when no one else cared.

Friends always have that special smile,
That keeps you happy for a while.
Thanks to their terrific personality,
They make it easier to face reality.

Even though we're far apart,
The bond is still in my heart.
But there comes a time when God wants
them above,
This is his way of showing his love.

Junior Miss Displays Poise

How lovely everyone looks.

Last June, when I was chosen to represent Tulpehocken High School, in the Berks County Jr. Miss Pageant, I had no idea about what was going to happen to me and to my life.

Through the summer, the Jr. Misses had get-togethers where we became acquainted with each other. All together there were twenty girls, one from each school. Rehearsals also began and we started to become a family. All of the girls were really fantastic and I enjoyed meeting each one of them.

Jr. Miss was sometimes very hectic and it sometimes seemed to take up a lot of time. Even with the nervous tension, towards the coming of the pageant, I truly enjoyed Jr. Miss and it was a great experience for me.

Stephanie Hoffman is Tulpehocken's Jr. Miss.

School Board Makes

The important task of developing district policy is handled by the School Board. The Board consists of nine members who are elected by the residents of the district. At regular monthly meetings, the Board performs various duties such as appropriating money, hiring employees, handling major disciplinary actions, and listening to the complaints and compliments of residents. The officers, who are elected from the members, consist of a president who leads the Board, a vice-president who assists the president, a secretary who handles all correspondence and records the voting, and the treasurer who handles the money records.

The Administration

Mr. Matthew is our Director of Instruction.

Working behind the scenes are the members of the THS Administration who consistently strive to improve the quality of the students' education. Their main concern is to keep the school working efficiently and successfully.

This year is Mr. Snyder's first year as the Superintendent at THS. As Director of the Tulpehocken Area School District he has many responsibilities. These include such duties as supervision of school programs as well as the schools' principles and policies. In addition, Mr. Snyder is the representative for the Tulpehocken school systems within the community and is responsible for the preparation and administration of the budget.

Another new face at THS is Mr. Perry, the Business Manager. He takes care of the banking, accounting, and investing of the School District's money, while also assisting in the preparation of the budget. The remainder of his time is filled by obtaining bids for important expenditures and maintaining employee benefit programs.

Mr. Snyder works behind the scenes at the office.

A new member of the Administration Staff is Mr. Perry.

Mr. Keller is always ready and willing to help students.

Mr. Perry looks over the checking account balance.

To whom does the principal go when he needs an errand run, or the superintendent when he needs a letter typed? The administrators have the secretaries to help them with these things, among many other duties.

The secretaries do typing and filing as any other secretary would, but they also help us students make each day better.

There are five secretaries, each having a special job. Mrs. Emily Weaver and Mrs. Ilene Batz are secretaries in the main office, Mrs. Thelma Keeney is secretary to the superintendent, Mrs. Sandra Keeney is the Transportation secretary while the secretary to the business manager is Mrs. Dori Triest.

What's Cooking?

Mrs. Grumbine is the manager of the dietary cooking staff for all the cafeterias in the district. She purchases everything that should be bought. She does the distributing to all the school buildings. She prepares all of the menus.

To prepare a meal it takes about 2 or 3 hours. The cooks prepare all meals from scratch. Each cook is assigned different jobs to help create the menu for the day. The cooks put a great deal of time and hard work in their jobs. The cooks work together to do their best to make the students satisfied and pleased.

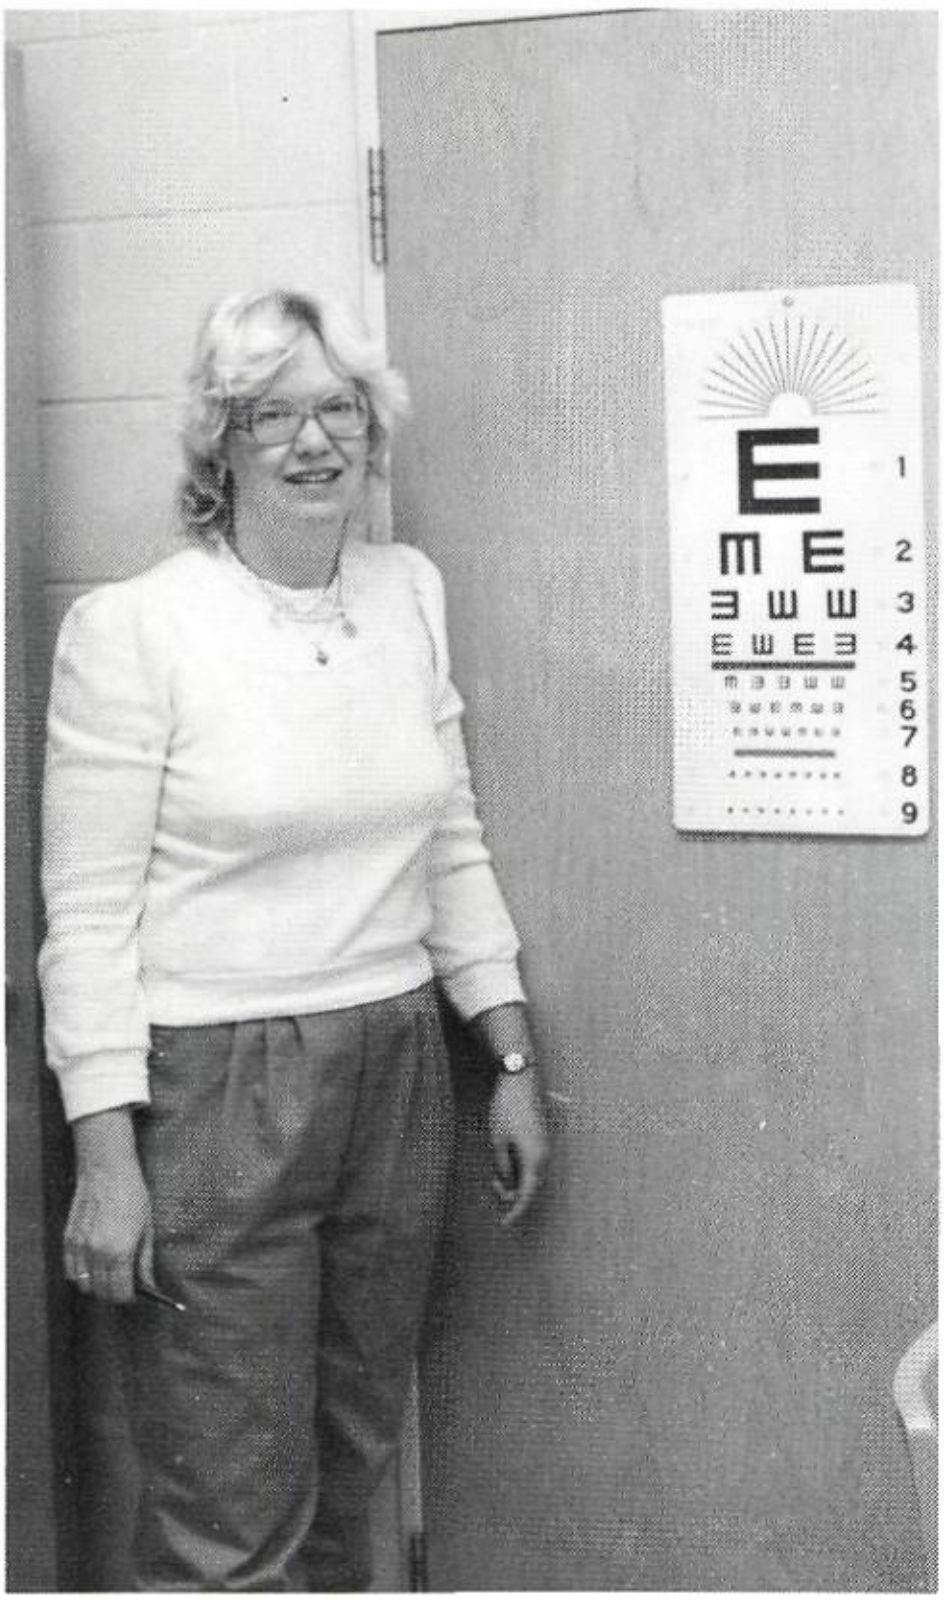
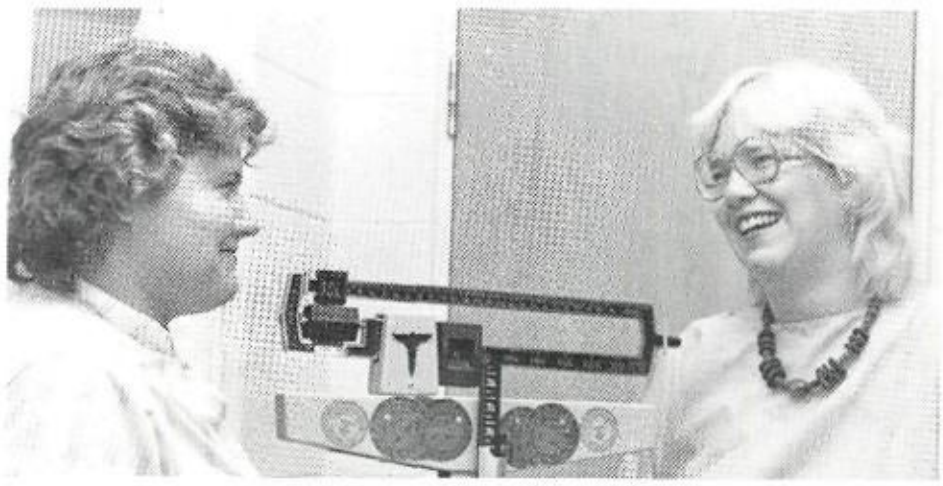
Is The Nurse Here Today?



Mrs. O'Rourke conducts a routine examination.

The new nurse is Mrs. Pamela O'Rourke.



Mrs. O'Rourke prepares the scale for a weight check.

Mrs. O'Rourke stands beside her eye chart.

This year we have a new nurse. Her name is Pamela O'Rourke. She has been very busy taking care of students. She also keeps the records of students' hearing, vision, weight, height, and blood pressure. Mrs. O'Rourke is here two times a week, Tuesday and Friday. Hopefully, you will never have to visit this office.

Efficiency Isn't Only

The bus drivers play a much larger role during the school year than they may be given credit. Not only are they on the road for the regular school hours, but they also provide transportation for parades, sporting events and activity bus, and field trips. Currently there are 18 buses in operation by the Tulpehocken School District with 10 bus contractors. Four of the buses are diesels. Since buses on an average, get only 5 mpg, operating expenses are high. But, just this past year a new law was passed which stated no sales tax would be charged on parts for the school bus that is used only for school functions.

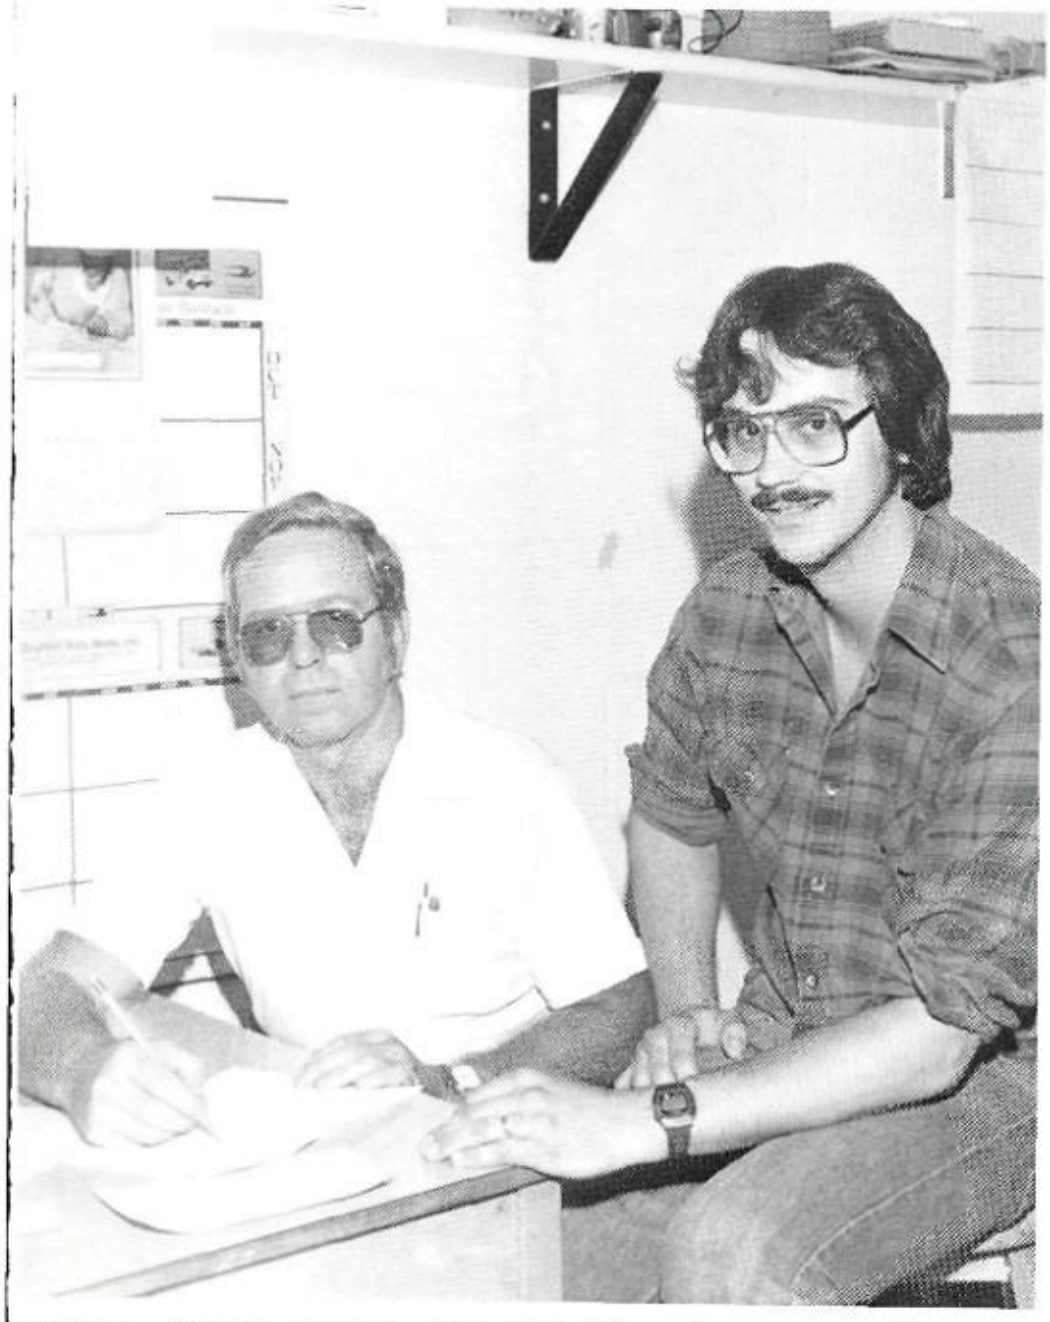
Harold Bashore drives bus #23.

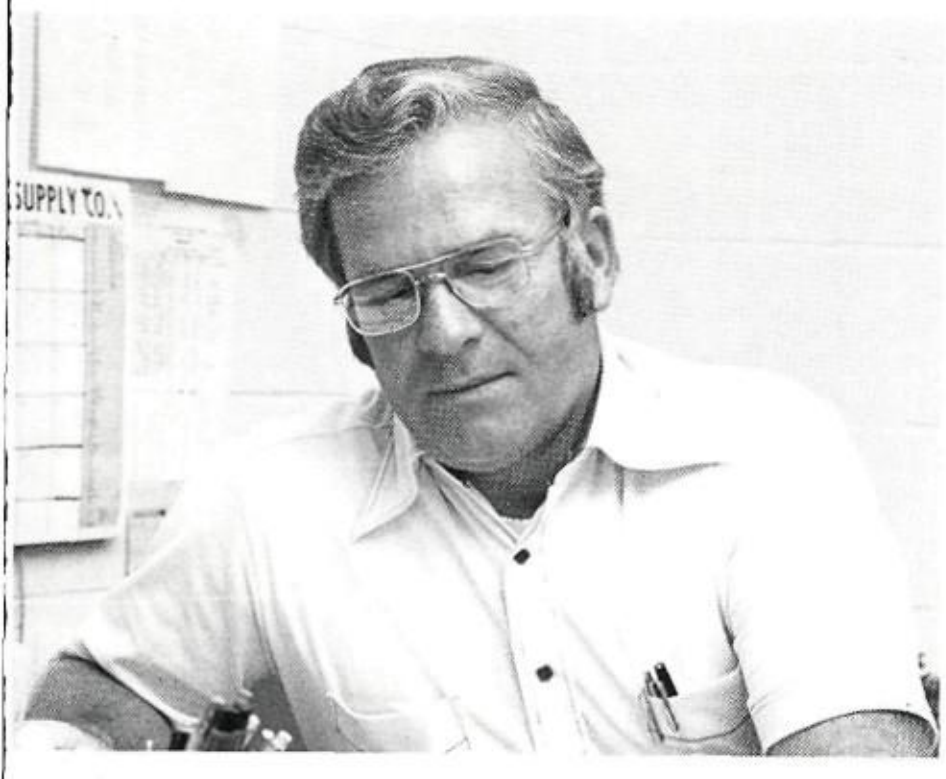
Lester Feick, driver of bus #25, decides to dismount while waiting.

At the end of the day, the buses are lined up just like this.

Expected Of Students



Together, Martin Bashore and Ray Himmelberger, complete some paperwork.



George Bashore, supervisor of buildings and grounds, contemplates the problems at the high school.

Jerry Weaver can't be found during the day, but sure is busy at nighttime.

Kathryn Wenger, a night custodian, is never too busy to lend a friendly smile.

Did you ever wonder who cleaned up all the trash left in the halls from the previous day, why the classrooms look so good, or how the restrooms stay looking decent? Thanks to a fine custodial staff all of this is true for us at Tulpehocken. As students we see them working only during the day, but really they can be found working at 3:00, right after school lets out, and into the late hours of the night. Even when all of us students are home enjoying the summer vacation, the dedicated custodians work hard to give us a clean and spotless school. Their hard work is greatly appreciated.

For the first time in Tulpehocken history, the makings of an all-school musical were underway. Along with much excitement, the hard work had begun. Long hours have been spent in perfecting lines, notes, and dance steps, but this has lead to an outstanding and superior performance.

The musical, "OKLAHOMA!" was performed in the high school auditorium on the weekend of April 19 and 20. The avid enthusiasm of the cast was exciting and vibrant. Thanks to the leadership and direction of our five directors—Mr. Frantz, Mrs. Blatt, Mrs. Snyder, Mr. Weaver and Mr. Reppert—the show went well.

It was an exceptionally good season with experienced seniors leading the top five positions losing only four matches to put them in third place.

The top five consisted of Phleane Kauffman, Kim Graeff, Dot Derr, Heidi Eisenbrown and Teena LaFollette. Each player had played for four years except Kim Graeff due to injuries. The team members saw each other's improvements over the years.

This year at the BCIAA Tournament, two doubles teams and two singles players competed. The doubles team of Heidi Eisenbrown and Dot Derr made it to the quarter finals losing to Wyomissing. Teena LaFollette, Kim Graeff, and the team of Phleane Kauffman and Tammy Focht made it to the second round and then were defeated.

This year's team was coached by Mr. Winter and the co-captains were Dot Derr and Heidi Eisenbrown.

Ernie Arthur is happy after a fine run.

The cross-country team had a competitive season even though this was not shown in their record. The team prevailed to win two meets and lost several close ones. The highlight of the season was the meet against Brandywine in which the team emerged victorious. This was a big win with eight Trojans placing in the top ten. Ron Wanner placed first, Ernie Arthur came in second, James Manbeck finished fourth, and Drew Moore, Steve Fisher, Dave Rausch, Mike Burkhart, and Tony Giorgio were places six through ten. The team finished the season with an overall record of two wins, seven losses and a league record of two wins, five losses.

The JV soccer team had a fine season finishing with a record of nine wins, two losses, and one tie. The team did not have one dominant scorer but spread the goals among ten players. The team's high scorer, with five goals, was Steve Snyder. Chris Boehmer scored four goals. The highlight of the season was the five shutouts. The main goal of the team was to prepare players for future action on the varsity team.

This year the THS wrestling team had many victories. Under the guidance of Coach Ron Kochera, they successfully fought their way through one tough competition after another. This year's team was a young one, with no seniors. The highlight of the season was coming from behind to tie Hamburg. The team participated in the Pottsgrove Wrestling Tournament. At the tournament, Jim Lausch, Jim Huber, and Dean Brett placed second in their weight classes, while Robert Clark came in third in his weight class. The five juniors gained experience to fill leadership positions next year.

"Pin 'em Flat" was an exclamation often heard from Tulpy's wrestling cheerleaders. This year's squad consisted of Kathy Forry, Kim Claman, Shelly Bagley, Tracy Crossley, and Cheri Stauffer. Together they made a pom pom routine to "Let's Hear It for the Boy" and performed it at most wrestling matches. Tulpy's wrestling cheerleaders stood proud behind Trojan wrestlers, and cheered for them wholeheartedly.

The Girls Show

The 1984-85 girls' basketball team was a totally different team compared to last year's team. The girls put a lot of hard work and time into practice. The first victory of the season was against Wyomissing with a score of 53-47. This was the first time the girls beat Wyomissing.

Another memorable event was recorded as the girls hosted their own Christmas Tournament, held on December 27 and 28. The team played Reading High in the opening round. That game was a first meeting for both schools.

The girls were in good shape this year both in playing and in cheering teammates to victory.

This season was the first that the girls were under the direction of coach Rich Dietrich. Under his guidance, the team gained the experience necessary to perform well on the varsity team in the future. The defeat of Mount Penn was the highlight of the season. Lori Fisher and Chris Hayes played on both the junior varsity and varsity teams. The team's collective enthusiasm and spirit carried the players through the rough parts of the schedule.

Boys Show

The varsity basketball squad consisted of 13 players who played with spirit even though winning few games. The team, led by co-captains Steve Fisher and Tony Giorgio, played with determination in every game. Inexperience was evident in the many close games that were lost in the fourth quarter. Coach Mike Paulson, in his second year at THS, worked hard in attempting to solve the team's problems.

Scott Daub, Louie Erazo, and Tim Frantz, all freshmen, played on the varsity team in an effort to build an experienced core for future teams. This was the final season of play for seniors Tony Giorgio and Steve Fisher.

This was also the last season in which the team will be served by equipment managers Dave Rausch and Troy Hoffert, who have an aggregate of seven years experience with the team.

The junior varsity team, under second-year coach Kevin Kline, had a difficult season. The team's determination and spirit was not evident in the record. Even though there were many losses, the players continued to perform with a winning attitude. Sophomores Chris Boehmer, Steve Caskie, Brad Hiester, and Chris Rentschler were the experienced core of the team. All players gained experience which will be utilized when the members move up to the varsity team.

This year marked the inaugural season of a new sports program. Winter track, which in past years was an informal practice, was given official status by the School Board. This action was necessary to meet new PIAA regulations. The team, coached by Mr. Crim, held workout sessions three times weekly. These workouts included distance running, sessions in the weight room, and practice of specialties such as high jumping and hurdling. The team members participated in this program in anticipation of the spring outdoor season and several winter indoor competitions.

It is the bottom of the ninth inning with the bases loaded and only one out to go. Gary Bicksler is on the mound trying to keep a five run lead. He winds up and throws the ball across the plate to strike out yet another batter . . . . . That might have not been the way it was but Gary did strike out 13 batters during the game with Kutztown to win by five runs.

Also unforgettable was Jeff Henne in the last game of the year. He pitched the team to victory by a score of one run over Governor Mifflin. There was no better way to end the season.

The pitching was at a peak, but the pitcher cannot win the game alone. The team's effort resulted in 4 wins and 6 losses. There were seven freshmen who will be the experienced backbone on which the next J. V. team will be built.

The Sports Boosters Club consists of the parents of all the athletes. They play a major role in recognition of athletes and help to buy supplies and equipment not provided by the school. The Sports Boosters raise money in various ways. Some of these are T-shirt sales, beef raffles, and memorymate picture sales. They also sponsor soccer, hockey, and girls' basketball tounraments and they sponsor record hops after the boys' basketball games on Fridays. The snack bar is run by the Sports Boosters at soccer and basketball events. With the money that is made from these fund raisers, the Boosters sponsor the sports banquet, help buy uniforms for the athletes, and also buy t-shirts for each athletic team which reaches district competition. A future project of the Sports Boosters is to build a stadium with lights on the athletic field, a project for which they have begun saving money.

The officers for the 1984-85 school term consist of: Mr. Richard Frantz, President; Mr. Earl Graeff, Vice-President; Mrs. Nancy Coryell, Secretary; and Mrs. Doris Klopp, Treasurer.

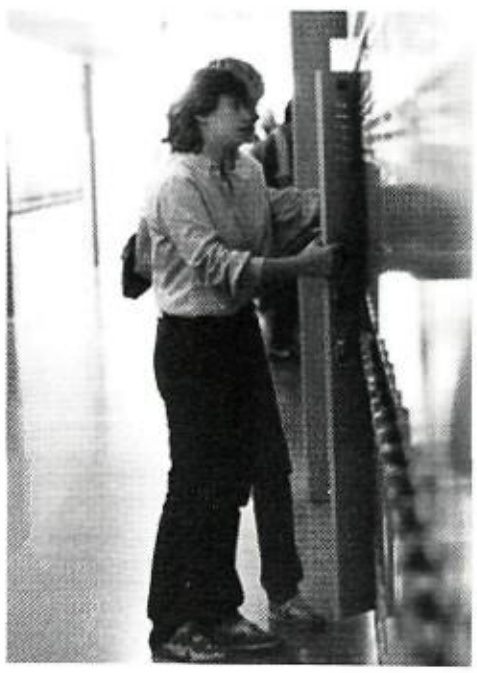
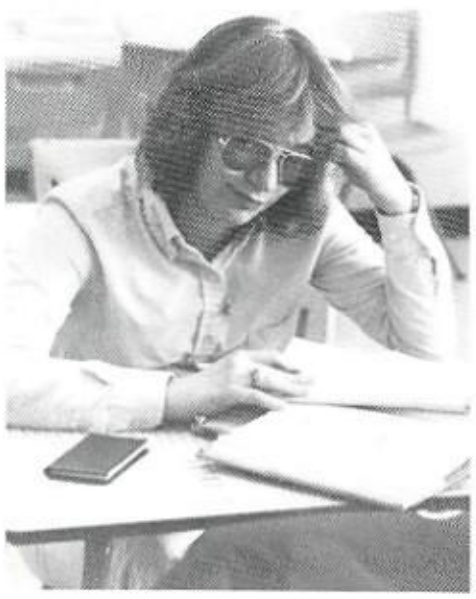
Student





Life

Students Get Involved

Computer Club

In this club, the members learn to write their own computer programs. They also learn to write computer game programs and then they play their games. Mr. Crim is the advisor.

Equine Care and Training

In the Equine Care and Training Club, the students have the opportunity to plan, run, and participate in two horse shows each year. Guest speakers, such as a farrier, a veterinarian, and local horse breeders give presentations to the club on equine care. Movies are viewed regarding different breeds and training techniques.

Foreign Cultures Alliance

The FCA is a club designed to bring foreign language into the school district. The languages that are stressed are German and Spanish. This year is the first year all four buildings in the district will be involved. The President is Tina Blatt. Mr. Pail is the advisor.

Hunting and Fishing Club

Mr. Hepner, the advisor, shows the members how to hunt and fish safely. The club views films on wildlife. The club also does some skeet shooting and practices archery.

Intramurals

The Intramurals Club is advised by all of the gym teachers. The members of the club play various sports during the various seasons. Some of the sports are tennis, flag football, soccer, and softball.

Karate Club

The members of this club, under the supervision of Mr. Winter, practice different karate techniques. Mr. Winter stresses the importance of doing the techniques correctly. The main style that the club members practice is okenowin.

Industrial Arts Club

This is the first year for the Industrial Arts Club. On November 9, the club attended the Industrial Arts Association Conference to find out about different competitions in which the club could compete. Mr. Scheirer is the advisor.

Library Club

During 8th period on Fridays, the members of this club, along with Mr. Bentz, are trying to make the library a much better place. The members cover books, design bulletin boards, write overdue notices, and keep the library very organized.

Needlework Club

Miss Ketner introduces the basic needlework patterns to beginners. All the members work on projects that are chosen by the individuals.

Newspaper Club

The members of the newspaper club inform the students of school events. Mr. Feaser, along with J. David Rausch, the editor, and the other members of the staff publish the Trojan Times. While publishing the Trojan Times, this club gives its members a creative outlet.

Plain and Fancy

Mrs. Blatt is teaching the members of this club to make things that deal with Pennsylvania Dutch heritage. The club does things like candle dipping, making candles, and making old fashioned pillows.

Sustained Silent Reading

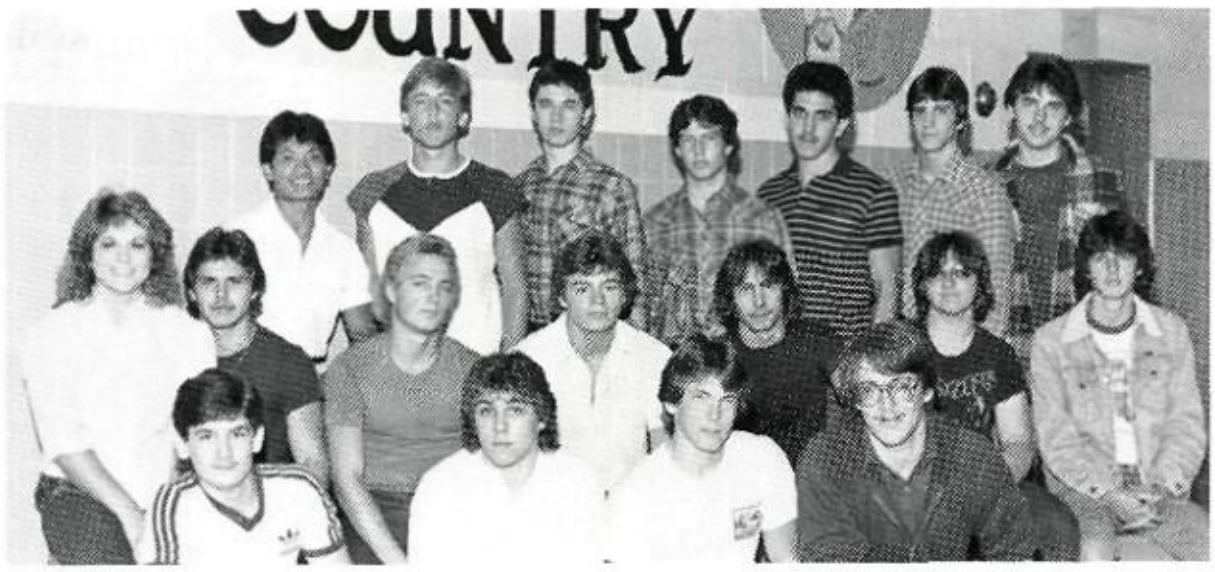
Sustained silent reading is an alternative to other clubs in which the students can read or study homework instead of investing their time in activities which other clubs are doing.

Sports Club

Mr. Wentling shows the members of his club films during the winter on various sports. The films teach the members how to participate in the sport and how to avoid injury. During the spring and fall, the members participate in different sports, weather permitting.

Student Service Club

The members of this club, along with Mrs. Althouse, help the student council with decorations for dances and decorating for other holidays. Some members also help the secretaries and some teachers. The president is Heidi Eisenbrown.



Weight Club

Each student, under the watchful eye of Mr. Voigt, follows his own program of weight lifting. The purpose of this club is to show the members the importance of physical fitness and how to lift weights safely.

Soaring Spirits

In this club, Mrs. Leininger is teaching the members that each person is a season. The members are learning to discover things about themselves that they never knew before. The club had a guest speaker come to show the members what looks good on each one of them.

At the beginning of the school year, we opened with a Magazine Campaign, during which the students raised money for assemblies throughout the year.

This year THS was blessed with the talent of Milton Dickson and James Des Chenes from the South Carolina Repertory Theatre. They presented us with a series of skits called "Great Moments at the White House." Everything they said had documented evidence which showed us the other side of the men who were our presidents.

We had a Christmas assembly when Santa Claus, accompanied by his elf, came to THS and presented candy canes. The featured film was "Airplane."

Mrs. Fetter from MADD (Mothers Against Drunk Driving) presented a dynamic assembly in which she discussed changing laws regarding drunk driving.

On March 16 and 17, Tulpehocken's most talented actors presented "1984", a play based on the book of the same title by George Orwell.

The play was centered around Winston Smith and told of his struggle to unite with others and overthrow Big Brother.

In this struggle he met Julia. He and Julia were wed, an act punishable by death. The rest of the play told about their arrest and subsequent torture and brainwashing. The play ended with Winston and Julia's return to society.

"The Whole Truth" was presented November 16 and 17 under the direction of Mr. Frantz. The play was a comedy that told of a family's crusade not to tell any lies, no matter what the consequences. Mr. Martin needed to borrow money to keep his business afloat. Between the children's friends, an old aunt, a lively sister, a nervous preacher, and the financer coming to discuss business, Mr. Martin had his hands full. In the end, Mr. Martin was offered the money from both his wife's aunt and the financer and every one ended up paired off and happy.

Spirit Week

Spirit Week was held the week of February fourth through the eighth. The festivities were arranged by the Special Days Committee of Student Council, under the leadership of Sue Houck.

On Monday, students were to wear their clothing either inside out or backwards.

Wednesday was designated as Martian day. Students were supposed to dress up in tin foil and antennas.

On Thursday, pupils had a choice of dressing up "Punk" with bright colors or "Rebel" with leather and chains.

The students were encouraged to wear school colors, blue and gold, on Friday to promote spirit for the pep rally at the end of the day.

Student Council Has

This was the second year that Student Council consisted of students elected by their classmates. The group worked diligently to sponsor such activities as the Homecoming Dance, Student of the Month, candy cane sale, canned food drive, and carnation sale. Student Council also participated in the Student Forum and district and state conventions. One of the more interesting activities was writing Santa Claus letters to the elementary students at Christmas in answer to their Santa letters.

FFA Keeps

The Tulpehocken Chapter of the Future Farmers of America is a group of students dedicated to improving American methods of agriculture. The FFA was formed in 1928 to promote and encourage innovation in agriculture. In 1984-85, the Tulpehocken Chapter consisted of all the persons enrolled in vocational agriculture. The group participated in the Farm Show at Harrisburg. Members of the chapter also competed in many contests. The highlight of the year was the annual banquet held in March. Many awards were presented at the banquet.

"We have everything you will ever need," was the slogan for Tulpy's student store. The student store was open for everyone's convenience the last ten minutes of each lunch period and also 8th period on Wednesdays. The store was operated by the twelfth grade business section, with profits benefitting the whole senior class. Items carried were: classic pens, pencils, notebooks, typing erasers, shoelaces, gym shorts, and t-shirts. Interesting new items were Trojan key chains, magnetic mirrors, and typing correction fluid.

Links And Chains

When the 1984-1985 DARDANIAN staff met, production was the key word. Many long hours were spent during and after school to produce the yearbook. Under the direction of Mrs. Genelow and Mr. Frantz, the senior staff with the help of the junior staff did copyfitting, cropping of pictures, and layouts. Two trips were taken to help the staff understand how the yearbook is produced. One trip was taken to Lebanon Valley College and the second trip was taken to the production plant located at State College. The staff worked hard to produce a prize winning, 20th anniversary edition of the DARDANIAN.

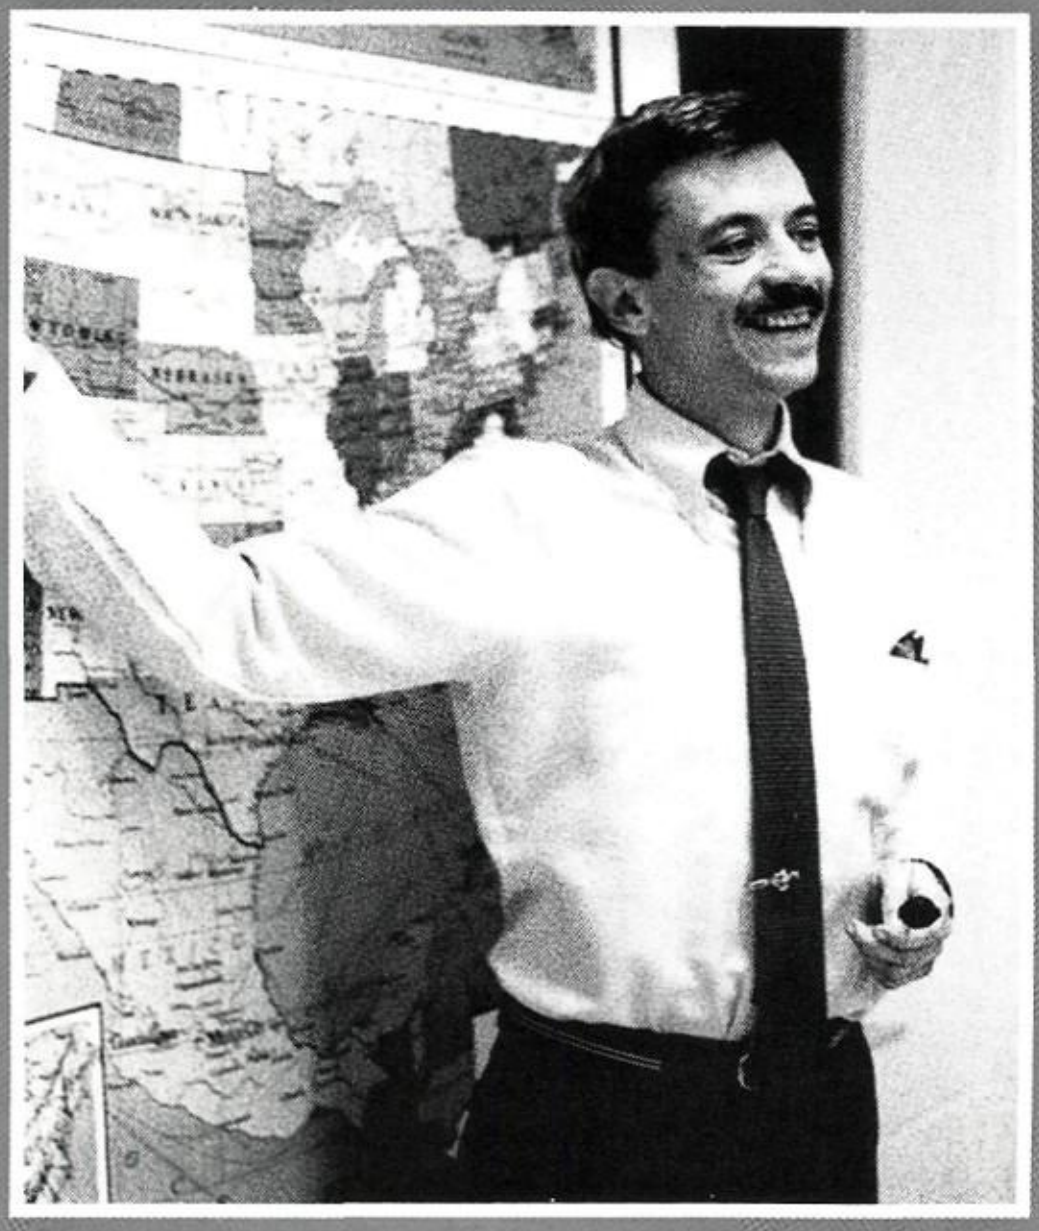
In Memory Of . . .

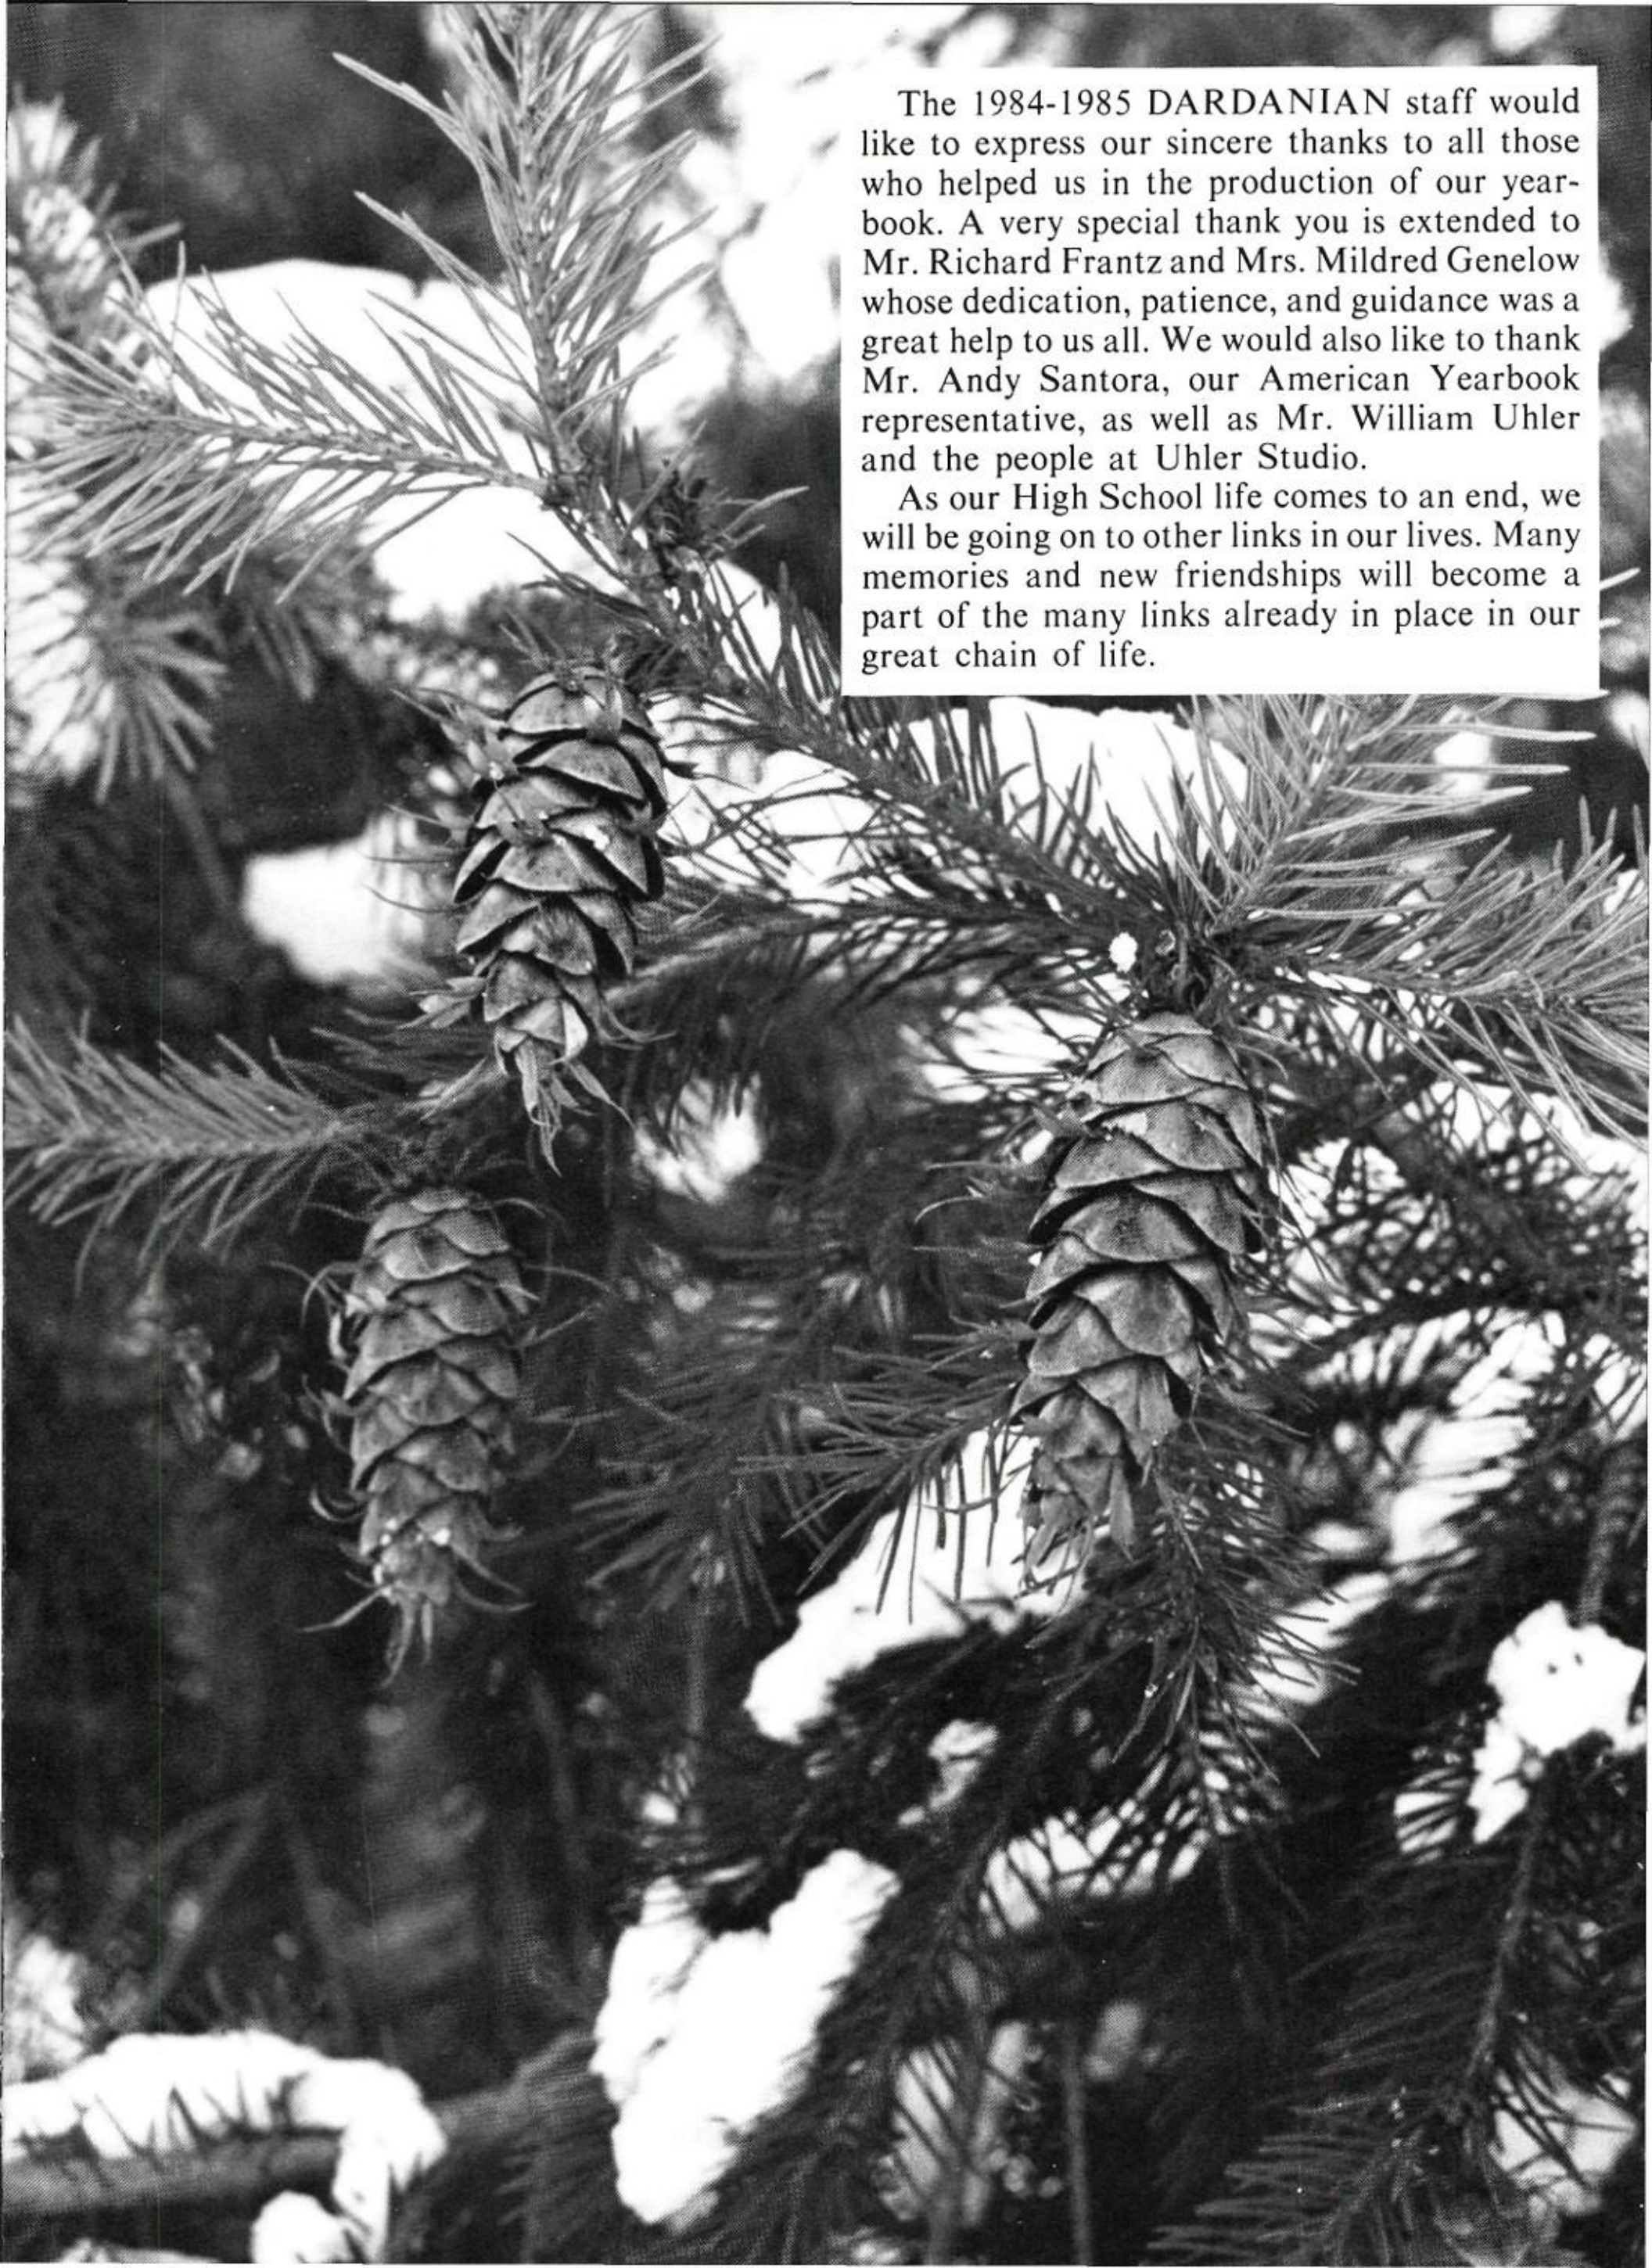


Elwood F. Briel

January 25, 1945-February 13, 1985

There is one link missing in the Tulpehocken High School chain, Mr. Briel. He helped us build our links, by teaching us our Social Studies. He made the chains stronger by letting us into his world, where he enjoyed jazz and rock music, basketball (he played for the teachers in the 1984 basketball game) and traveling.

Mr. Elwood Briel was one of Tulpehocken's newer teachers. He started teaching at T.H.S. in January 1984 in the Social Studies Department teaching P.O.D., World Cultures, U.S. History and Sociology. Mr. Briel received his degree in Social Studies, Government, and Education from Albright College in 1981, graduating magna cum laude, second in his class.



The 1984-1985 DARDANIAN staff would like to express our sincere thanks to all those who helped us in the production of our yearbook. A very special thank you is extended to Mr. Richard Frantz and Mrs. Mildred Genelow whose dedication, patience, and guidance was a great help to us all. We would also like to thank Mr. Andy Santora, our American Yearbook representative, as well as Mr. William Uhler and the people at Uhler Studio.

As our High School life comes to an end, we will be going on to other links in our lives. Many memories and new friendships will become a part of the many links already in place in our great chain of life.
